

Baltimore School for the Arts

Annual Report 2007-2008

For nearly thirty years, the Baltimore School for the Arts and the Baltimore community have worked together to create a nationally recognized school where students receive an excellent academic education and the highest quality pre-professional arts training. In 2007-2008, both the high school and TWIGS programs flourished and the capital campaign was completed, enabling Baltimore School for the Arts to reach more children than ever before with opportunities that may change their lives. We could not have accomplished this without your generous support – Thank you.

Capital Campaign

The expansion and renovation of the Baltimore School for the Arts was completed in 2007. This project has enabled the BSA to modernize and improve its facilities as well as add much-needed state-of-the-art studios and classrooms, a new library, and a three-tier dance building. The BSA has started planned-for growth of both its high school and TWIGS programs as a result of the project, and will continue growth in the coming years. An incredibly generous community and a pioneering public/private partnership enabled this project to come to fruition; and we are extremely grateful to all of our donors to the capital campaign. Contributions received towards this campaign, as well as the Doris Duke Charitable Foundation Endowment Challenge, as of 7/1/08:

Annual Fund

The Annual Fund Campaign is a crucial component of the school's fundraising efforts. For the 2007-2008 fiscal year, funds received from the Baltimore City Public School System covered 71% of the Baltimore School for the Arts' operating budget, paying faculty salaries, building maintenance, and security costs. The remaining 29% – the funding for all arts programming and classroom materials – was raised from private donations. This included scholarships for summer study and college bound seniors, all costs associated with performances and exhibitions, master classes, SAT and PSAT training, pointe shoes for our dancers, paintbrushes for visual artists, musical instruments, library books, theatre sets and costumes, and financial support for the school's TWIGS program. Annual Fund contributors from 7/1/07 to 6/30/08:
